

The enable literal means to start execution of a behavior (compare to resume).

The disable literal means a test of an executing behavior that can be started again from the beginning (compare to suspend).